

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

SUMMER 2022 ISSUE

My Dear Colleagues and Friends:

I write to you with a great deal of pleasure about the publication of the Summer 2022 Issue of the JSDA. I spent the months of June, July and some two weeks in August in West Africa doing some development work and some research on two book projects. That is why this Issue of the JSDA is being published a little late. We have three remarkable articles written by very seasoned scholars. The articles are relevant theoretically and operationally. They contribute to the dialogues on the themes of the JSDA. Please continue to send your comments to me.

Thanks,

Valentine Udoh James, Ph.D.; CEI; CAQS

Professor, Environmental Management, Planning and Policy

Pennsylvania Western University - Clarion

